

Workshop - Weight Loss Boot Camp for the Mind

Do you.....

- Struggle to lose weight?
- Yo-yo diet?
- Feel guilt about eating?
- Doubt your own abilities to control food?
- Sabotage your success?
- Find it difficult to say no?
- Wonder why you are not able to lose weight
- Wonder why you can't remain slim?

Are you fed up with the continual cycle of dieting, losing and gaining weight?

Boot camp for the mind is a one day intensive workshop... “workout” for the mind; to train your neural pathways into wanting to be slimmer... for good.

The mental workout will involve analysing why the mind chooses not to eat healthily; be it due to emotional reasons, behavioural habits or simply associations; every person is individual and there may be one reason or a hundred.

These reasons once determined will be addressed both consciously and more importantly, subconsciously using hypnosis, self-hypnosis, NLP (neural linguistic Programming), and IEMT (integral eye movement therapy). Changing both the emotions towards food and the behaviours and patterns linked to eating.

The course is run by two qualified hypnotherapists - Andy Cox and Tracey Grist of Assured Effects Hypnotherapy, both have specialisations in weight reduction techniques. They will be using new, unique, and more importantly, successful techniques to train the mind for the body to follow.

There is much judgement involved in being overweight, and we know that the worse judge can be inside our own heads. Bootcamp for the mind is about breaking FREE.... freedom from food, freedom from judgement, freedom from that voice inside your head.

The course runs from 10am-4pm (with a pleasurable lunch break, so please bring a packed lunch that you will enjoy).

Due to demand and limited numbers it is advisable to book your place now.

The usual cost for the day is £149.00 however; special agreement has been arranged with the reCentre allowing the one day course to be run at £99.00!
